MUGGLE FAMILIES MASS MURDERED MINISTER FEARS DARK MAGIC

In the past month, four muggle families have been killed. The Ministry was called in to question when there were no visible signs of murder. They said they haven't seen anything like this since the days of Voldemort. The Ministry is suspecting dark magic. They fear Death Eaters are involved. Head of the Auror Office, Mr. Harry Potter, is currently working on the case.

"Without hesitation, we asked Mr. Potter to come in and work these cases," says Shacklebolt. "We know that if dark magic is involved, he will be the one to put a stop to it!"

Since the downfall of Lord Voldemort more than 10 years ago, Mr. Potter has sent over 100 Death Eaters who continued to kill muggles to Azkaban. Many are fearing another mass breakout from the prison, but the Ministry is not worried as security has been tripled since The Dark Lord's downfall and the previous breakout. "We have done immense work to Azkaban," says Shacklebolt. "Dementors no longer secure the building, we have our ways!"

The names of the muggle families have not been released for the protection of the remaining families. The minister fears the muggles that were killed had much to do with the wizarding world, as the children that were killed were witches and wizards that were due to attend Hogwarts in September. "We do fear that one or multiple remaining Death Eaters are still carrying out Lord Voldemort's wishes of a muggle free world," said Shacklebolt when asked if he believed a new Dark Lord, perhaps, was on the prowl. "Nobody needs to worry, the Ministry has this under control!" ~

National Weather Service forecasters expect a bright future for London. The sun will bring relief from the recent cold snap, but there's still a chance of rain and thunderstorms. The forecast for the next few days is mostly clear with some scattered clouds. The temperature is expected to rise to around 15°C by Friday afternoon. The wind will be moderate, with speeds up to 10 mph. The air quality is good, with a low risk of pollution. The forecast for the weekend is similar, with a mix of sun and clouds. The temperature is expected to drop slightly on Saturday night, reaching a low of 10°C.

DEATH EATER TERROR CONTINUES

DARK FORCES GROW IN NUMBER

Since the start of the year, the number of dark forces has increased significantly. According to the Ministry of Magic, there are now over 100 known Death Eaters operating in the wizarding world. This includes both known Death Eaters and those who have joined the Dark Lord's cause but have not yet been officially recognized.

One of the most prominent new recruits is Bellatrix Lestrange, who has joined the ranks of the Dark Lord's followers. She is known for her loyalty to the Dark Lord and her willingness to do whatever it takes to achieve his goals. Her joining the ranks of the Death Eaters has caused concern among many in the wizarding world, particularly those who remember her role in the Second Wizarding War.

For the first time in years, negotiations between the Ministry of Magic and the Goblin community have broken down. The latest round of talks, which were held last week, ended in deadlock, with both sides failing to reach an agreement.

A joint statement from the Ministry of Magic and the Goblin community said: "We regret to inform you that our negotiations have reached a standstill. Both sides are at a standstill, unable to agree on key issues such as tax reform and employment rights."

WHERE DO WE GET OUR WANDS NOW?

Buying a wand in the wizarding world can be difficult. With the Ministry of Magic cracking down on wand manufacturers, finding a suitable wand can be a challenge. But don't worry, there are still options available.

Local wand makers like Mr. Weasley's Wand Shop and Mr. Ollivander's Wand Shop are still producing wands, though they may be more expensive than before. Additionally, there are online retailers like WizardingWands.com and WitchingWands.com that offer a wide range of wands at competitive prices.

FLOO POWDER MISHAPS: THE FACTS YOU NEED TO KNOW

After a series of unfortunate floo powder mishaps in recent weeks, the Ministry of Magic has issued a warning to all wizards and witches to be careful when using floo powder.

According to the Ministry of Magic, the most common cause of floo powder mishaps is a lack of knowledge about how to use it safely. Other factors include poor storage conditions and faulty equipment.

HOUSE PRICES CRASH IN HOGSMEADE

In the wizarding town of Hogsmeade, house prices have dropped significantly in recent months. According to the Ministry of Magic, the average price of a house in Hogsmeade has fallen by nearly 50% since the start of the year.

Analysts believe that the crash in house prices is due to a combination of factors, including the economic slowdown and the impact of the Second Wizarding War. The Ministry of Magic has issued a warning to all wizards and witches to be careful when buying or selling property in Hogsmeade.

THE DARK LORD DEFEATED

HOGWARTS SCHOOL OF WITCHCRAFT AND WIZARDRY LEFT IN RUINS AFTER DEATH EATER ATTACK.

Reports from Hogwarts School of Witchcraft and Wizardry have been confirmed to be true; the Dark Lord, He-Who-Must-Not-Be-Named, Lord Voldemort, has been defeated once and for all, by Harry Potter.

Seventeen year-old Potter had not been seen by members of the community since his disappearance from his home on the thirtieth of July 1997. He, along with friends Ron Weasley and Hermione Granger were also reported to be missing, presumably accompanying Potter.

Last night, Lord Voldemort and his Death Eater army attacked Hogwarts Castle, ruthlessly killing over fifty students, teachers and Ministry Officials. Severus Snape, Headmaster of Hogwarts, was one of those caught in the attack. However, stories are hazy as to whether Snape was fighting against or alongside Lord Voldemort. The former Death Eater, Snape was a trusted accomplice to Albus Dumbledore, previous headmaster. In the Bartleby trial in 1981, Dumbledore was quoted as saying that "Severus Snape changed sides before the downfall of Lord Voldemort; I trust him with my life". However, with Hogwarts under the dictatorship of Voldemort since September, the introduction of Dark Arts classes and the use of Unforgivable Curses on students at the school, nobody fully knows where Snape's priorities lied.

From Hogsmeade Village, eyewitnesses claimed that they could hear the voice of Voldemort talking to them inside their heads. Madame Rosmerta, landlady of the Three Broomsticks, said that the Dark Lord spoke about Harry Potter turning himself in and for people to dispose of the dead with dignity. How Potter defeated Lord Voldemort is still fully unknown, but sources indicate that the use of the Disarming Spell caused Voldemort's Killing Curse to backfire. Indeed, in the battle of Hogwarts was Neville Longbottom, who bravely destroyed the Dark Lord's vicious snake, Nagini.

SHACKLEBOLT APPOINTED AS NEW MINISTER FOR MAGIC

After the events of last night and this morning, the Ministry has come to the decision to appoint Kingsley Shacklebolt as the fourteenth Minister for Magic. Shacklebolt, who was the Sir to Cornelius Fudge and Rufus Scrimgeour, started his career at the Ministry of Magic at the age of thirty, working in the Auror department. In 1995, Shacklebolt became a member of The Order of the Phoenix, leading a group, including Harry Potter and ex-Slytherin Ravenclaw, Albus Dumbledore, who never returned to teaching the Dark forces of Lord Voldemort. Arthur Weasley, Head of the Office for the Detection and Confiscation of Counterfeit Merchandise and Protective Objects, and personal friend of Shacklebolt, said that the new Minister may...

HAPPY BIRTHDAY!

THE BOY WHO LIVED AND OUR QUEEN CELEBRATE THEIR DAYS OF BIRTH

We apologize, our photographer is currently ill. We had to use a muggle camera.

Harry James Potter, the boy who defeated Lord Voldemort on May 2, 1998, celebrates his 31 birthday today. He was born in Godric's Hallow to James and Lily Potter. Thanks to his mother, he was able to survive the unforgivable spell from The Dark Lord, thus becoming The Boy Who Lived. He studied at Hogwarts and ended up becoming the Head of the Auror Office at the Ministry of Magic. He will be returning to Hogwarts at the beginning of the term to talk to those in the Defense of the Dark Arts class. Make sure your kids don't miss this! Along with our queen, who 15 years ago, exposed the magical world to the muggle world, turns 46 today. She is also working on the Beta Registration of Pottermore, an online Harry Potter experience. We need to take this time to thank Harry Potter for his hard work; defeating the Dark Lord once and for all and we need to thank the lovely Joanne Rowling, our queen, for bringing the magical world back to life for all of us! Send them an owl. Addresses on page 3. ~

RISE OF THE PLANET OF THE APES

Draco Malfoy has made quite a stir in the muggle world. He has adopted a muggle name, Thomas Andrew Felton, and is known as an actor and musician. The movie is expected to open in theaters on 5 August. It's about a man, played by muggle actor James Franco, who tests a new medicine on an ape and it becomes too smart for its own good. The world gets taken over by apes. Mr. Malfoy, or Mr. Felton rather, plays a prat who taunts the apes. Make sure you check it out and send an owl with a review to The Daily Prophet. ~

DUMBLEDORE: DAFT OR DANGEROUS?

EXCLUSIVE

Quique est enim vel sapientia vel. Aliquam in illam venit non per carnem et sanguinem sed ante. Aliquam venit, sicut vocatur, ex deo.

A black and white portrait of Albus Dumbledore. He has long, flowing white hair and a very long, full white beard. He is wearing a dark, textured robe over a light-colored shirt. On his head is a dark, pointed hat with a small, frayed feather or tassel on the side. He is looking directly at the camera with a serious expression. The background is dark and appears to be an interior setting with wooden paneling.

Investigations continue into the break-in at Gringotts on 31 July, widely believed to be the work of Dark wizards or witches unknown. Gringotts goblins today insisted that nothing had been taken. The vault that was searched had in fact been emptied the same day. "But we're not telling you what was in there, so keep your noses out if you know what's good for you," said a Gringotts spokesgoblin this afternoon. *Lorem ipsum dolor sit amet, consectetur adipisciing elit. MAYHEM AT HIGH SECURITY PRISON

MASS BREAKOUT FROM AZKABAN

Philip Goblet, Minister under former Minister of Magic, Fudge, states that there have been disturbances over the last few days. Reporters have been to Azkaban, and the Minister claims that the recent disturbances are due to the fact that the Ministry has been neglecting its duties. The Minister says that he has been trying to improve the prison's conditions, but it is clear that more needs to be done. He also states that the Ministry will be taking further steps to ensure the safety of all those held captive at Azkaban.

Several high-security prisoners have escaped from Azkaban. The Ministry of Magic is investigating the matter. It is believed that the escapees are being held by Death Eaters. The Minister has issued a warning to all魔杖持有者 (Magi) to remain vigilant and to report any suspicious activity.

Black still at Large

Sirius Black, possibly the most infamous prisoner ever to be held in Azkaban fortress, is still eluding capture, the Ministry of Magic confirmed today. "We are doing all we can to recapture Black," said the Minister of Magic, Cornelius Fudge, this morning, "and we beg the magical community to remain calm." Fudge has been criticized by some members of the International Federation of Warlocks for informing the Muggle Prime Minister of the crisis. "Well, really, I had to, don't you know," said an irritable Fudge. "Black is mad. He's a danger to anyone who crosses him, magic or Muggle. I have no word for anyone. Ministry of Magic Employee Scoops Grand Prize

Arthur Weasley, Head of the Misuse of Muggle Artefacts Office at the Ministry of Magic, has won the annual Daily Prophet Grand Prize Galleon Draw. A Delighted Mr. Weasley told the Daily Prophet, "We will be spending the gold on a summer holiday in Egypt, where our eldest son, Bill, works as a curse breaker for Gringotts Wizarding Bank." Bewildered muggles were convinced they saw an old car flying over the Post Office Tower at noon in Norfolk.

Mrs. Betty Mansiss spotted the Flying Ford Anglia while hanging out her washing in her locality of Wandsworth.

Mr. Angus Fleet of Yeovil reported the flying car to police at his local Finchley station. Six or seven muggles in all reported the flying Ford Anglia.

The Improper Use of Magic Office is investigating the incident.

The Wizard responsible is expected to be in for a very rough time.

Eye-witnesses Leanne Gore and Daphne Blaugholin said that the accident caused by a rather feeble old wizard called Irma Dippet, a local well known for his erratic flying.

He is due to take his ancient age flying test next month on his 555th birthday. Unfortunately this accident occurred a month too early. Luckily though no serious injuries were incurred.

Owls Missing In Action

WHERE HAVE THE OWLS GONE?

Now that the search for the quill is over and the one million lucky students have been selected many are wondering where is their welcome letter. Have the Owls gotten lost? An official statement from pottermore was released, "We won't be able to let everyone into the Beta site at the same time, so you may have to wait a number of weeks for your Welcome email to arrive." Also, spaces for early access to pottermore have been allocated by a 'first come, first served' basis. No confirmation on how many students will be admitted each day yet. So before anyone gets upset, don't worry your letter will come, you are one in a million.

EXOTIC PICTURES OF HARRY POTTER SURFACE

Head of the Auror Office, Harry Potter, has a lot of heat coming to him after nude pictures of him surfaced late last week. Sources tell us that these pictures have been around for some time now and were found on a website known as Tumblr. They appear under the searchable tags of "Harry Potter" and "Daniel Radcliffe."

Daniel Radcliffe is a muggle actor. We are not sure of the correlation between Mr. Potter and Mr. Radcliffe. Neither of the two have confirmed nor denied these pictures, although sources do believe that these are of Harry Potter.

"These pictures have no effect on my career or my family life!" said Mr. Potter when asked about them. "My wife has seen these, along with my kids. Although, I do not remember taking them." Perhaps one too many Butterbeers for the head of the Auror Office.

He is among the many wizards and muggles to have nude pictures of themselves. It seems to be a trend that many are following. "I do not plan to resign or let these pictures ruin my career," said Harry Potter.

Others are not concerned with the leaked photos of Mr. Potter. Most say these pictures are not unethical at all and that he is hurting nobody, nor has he lied to anybody about them. There have been no requests to take down the pictures or to not release them. ~

Potter Saves Stone

Hogwarts School of Witchcraft and Wizardry student Harry Potter has triumphed over He-Who-Must-Not-Be-Named for a second time. The infamous 11 year old yesterday saved the Philosopher's Stone from the clutches of You-Know-Who in a dungeon below Hogwarts.

"Harry has done the school, and me, proud with this latest event," Albus Dumbledore stated. "This, by no means though, was intended when the Stone was placed in protection at Hogwarts."

Harry was helped by fellow first year friends Hermione Granger and Ronald Weasley, but was alone when he came face to face with He-Who-Must-Not-Be-Named. Harry and You-Know-Who are said to have duelled, in which Harry won. It is unknown what sort of mortal state You-Know-Who was in, but he fled the scene unnoticed. Harry was unavailable for comment, as he is still unconscious in the Hospital Wing at Hogwarts, but is expected to make a full recovery.

This is the first the magic community has heard of He-Who-Must-Not-Be-Named in many years, and it has sparked worry among many. Cornelius Fudge this morning made comment that "You-Know-Who is nowhere near return. This is not a cause for concern. The Ministry has everything under complete control."

HOGWARTS

BALD AM ENDE?

Umbridge packt aus!

Vor mehreren Monaten beschloss das Ministerium für Zauberei die Untersekretärin des Ministers, Dolores Jane Umbridge, zur Hogwartschule für Hexerei und Zauberei zu schicken, damit sie dort nach dem Rechten sieht. Jetzt - nach 4 Monaten - besuchte das Daily Prophet-Team die Großinquisitorin. Hier das Interview!

DAILY PROPHET • Miss Umbridge, Sie arbeiten nun bereits seit vier Monaten an der Hogwartschule für Hexerei und Zauberei. Sind Ihre Ergebnisse bisher zufriedenstellend?

UMBRIDGE • Ja, es gibt durchaus große, gelungene Veränderungen. Die Schülerinnen und Schüler haben gemerkt, dass es einfach ist, miteinander zu leben, wenn es klare Regeln gibt.

DAILY PROPHET • Man hört oft aus Ihrem Kollegium, dass sich manche Schüler immer noch daneben benehmen. Wie ist das möglich?

UMBRIDGE • Es gibt leider Schülerinnen und Schüler, die sich den Konsequenzen nicht bewusst sind und höchstwahrscheinlich von Dumbledore aufgezogen worden. So ist ein Verweis in vielen Fällen die einzige angebrachte Möglichkeit.

DAILY PROPHET • Seit einigen Wochen fungieren Sie als Schulleiterin der Hogwartschule. Wie ist es dazu gekommen?

UMBRIDGE • Das Ministerium hielt Albus Dumbledore für nicht mehr angemessen in dem Posten als Schulleiter. Auch seine Ziele waren für das Ministerium nicht mehr zu tolerieren und somit ernannten sie die bestmögliche Person zum neuen Schulleiter.

DAILY PROPHET • Miss Umbridge, was meinen Sie; wie lange werden Sie diese Position noch inne haben?

UMBRIDGE • Ich denke nicht, dass Mr. Dumbledore in den nächsten Monaten zurückkehren wird. [kichern]

DAILY PROPHET • Was war in den letzten Monaten das schlimmste Vergehen eines Schülers, und mit welcher Strafe musste er sich aussöhnen?

UMBRIDGE • Das schlimmste Vergehen von mehreren Schülerinnen und Schülern waren scharfe und nicht tolerierende Meinungen über das Ministerium und über meinen neuen Posten als Schulleiterin und diese wurden dementsprechend bestraft.

DAILY PROPHET • Manch jemand behauptet, dass Sie sich durch die Rückendeckung des Ministers alles erlauben können. Ist dem so?

UMBRIDGE • Keinesweg. Für mich gelten die gleichen Regeln wie für jeden Professoren, die ich einzuhalten habe, und dies auch selbstverständlich tue.

DAILY PROPHET • Wir danken Ihnen für die Preisgebung der Informationen und wünschen Ihnen in den nächsten Monaten viel Erfolg für ihre schulleitenden Tätigkeiten!

Seit Monaten versucht die Untersekretärin des Ministers, Dolores Jane Umbridge, die Verhältnisse Hogwarts' zu bessern.

Finally, the firm's capital structure may have been set by its tax base. The cost of debt, or the interest rate on debt, reflects the risk premium of debt over equity. Debt has two main risks: default risk and interest rate risk. Default risk is the probability that the firm will not be able to meet its debt obligations. Interest rate risk is the risk that interest rates will change, which would affect the value of the firm's debt.

One point was an interesting one as it affected our visit to the city of Paris. There we found certain signs which were very familiar to us. French people have a love of change. French people move in and out like birds. French people like to live in and around Paris. We could see no legal right or injury from this movement. When we landed at Orly, we found a local French bus line. From out set we ate at another place the native bread and butter would have been served with a meal, but here they were served with a meal.

Last August rents in the Bay Area's seven-county area shot up 10 percent from a year earlier, according to a new report by the San Francisco-based Center for Neighborhood Technology. The report, which tracks rents in 100 cities across the state, also found that rents in the Bay Area rose 10.2 percent over the same period. The report's author, Mark L. Johnson, says that while San Francisco saw the largest increase in rents, the city's renter-occupant ratio has actually declined since 1980. "It's not clear if rents have peaked," he says. "But it's clear that rents are still rising." Johnson says that rents in the Bay Area have risen more than 20 percent since 1980. "The cost of living has gone up, and so have rents," he says. "But we're still seeing significant increases in rents." Johnson says that rents in the Bay Area have risen more than 20 percent since 1980. EXCLUSIVE MAYHEM AT HIGH SECURITY PRISON

Allora insomma, finalmente, anche l'attuale Ufficio dei Finanziari, finisce di fare la telenovela politica non finita. Ma da dove possono venire le tensioni così vaste fra i colleghi dopo quel tentativo logorante di governo? Mentre tutti si dicono che è stato un buon governo, perché, allora, perché? Perché, oggi, il governo Berlusconi è composto da pochissimi. Mentre infatti si crede che dopo il suo fallimento si possano ancora trovare dei punti di contatto fra i due partiti, oggi non esiste più nulla. Tuttavia, oggi, non c'è più nulla. Praticamente non c'è più nessuno dell'antico governo Berlusconi in questo governo. Ecco perché, oggi, non c'è più nulla. Ecco perché, oggi, non c'è più nulla.

THE BEGINNING OF THE END LEAVING HOGWARTS BEHIND

BY GEOFF BOUCHER/LOS ANGELES TIMES/GETTY

WATFORD, England — There was a break in the action — the cast and crew of "Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows" were mailing about waiting for the next set-up on a summer day here in 2009 — and Daniel Radcliffe sat back in his seat and admired the life of a fugitive. "Everybody is after us," the actor said of his on-screen persona, Harry Potter, and his partners in magic. "We're to the point in the story where it's a lot of action and we're on the run. And that's brilliant."

When Part I of the two-part "Harry Potter" franchise finale reaches theaters on Nov. 19, it will do so without one of the series' signature characters. But the missing star is not a wizard, Muggle, goblin or troll, it's a place. The seventh film is the first without any notable screen time spent inside the stone corridors of Hogwarts School of Witchcraft and Wizardry, the castle that has become synonymous with the magical epic.

The absence of the ancient academy from the seventh movie, according to producer David Heyman, informs the texture and rhythm of the franchise's penultimate installment. The film is very much a road-trip adventure with the three main characters in fugitive mode and preparing for the final showdown with Lord Voldemort, portrayed with reptilian rasp by Ralph Fiennes.

"It gives this film a very different feel to be away from Hogwarts," Heyman said. "The main characters — Harry, Ron and Hermione — are on the run and yes, they do go to some magical places, like the Ministry of Magic, but a lot of the film is set in a quite naturalistic setting, and that makes it feel very real and very human. There's plenty of magic, of course, but it's set against a very real context."

"It feels real, gritty at times and beautiful at other times."

Radcliffe said treading past the stony floors of the Hogwarts set in Watford energized the cast during the production of the seventh and eighth films, which were made together in a shoot that began in February 2009 and did not wrap until mid-June of this year.

"I've never realized it before, but I've been an evil Harry Potter for half my life. Throughout the books and movies, I've been about the same age as the characters," Hayes, of Victoria, said. "A good comparison to how it feels now that we're approaching the end is that it's like graduating from high school. You're excited to be moving on, but sentimental about leaving behind all your friends. Growing up with the series, I loved the whole experience, but that chapter of my life is coming to an end."

Hogwarts makes its return in "Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows: Part 2," in a manner of speaking. That final chapter of the franchise is built around a massive battle that destroys much of the school. That's not much of a spoiler if you've been paying attention.

"It is a little sad. Even though I've read all the books and know how it ends, there's always so much excitement surrounding the premiere of the movies," Ashley Perry, 18, said. "When I finished reading the last book, I remember being a little depressed because this epic journey I was on was over. And I have a feeling I'll feel the same way after the last movie comes out."

THE FIVE STAGES OF POST TRAUMATIC POTTER DISORDER
For many fans, this will be a trying time and you may find yourself suffering from Post Traumatic Potter Disorder. Worried that may be you? Well, below we've outlined the five stages of PTPD and what you can expect as you try to come to grips with the end of "Harry Potter and the Order of the Phoenix" • "Harry Potter and the Half-Blood Prince" • "Harry Potter and the Prisoner of Azkaban" • "Harry Potter and the Chamber of Secrets" • "Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone".

1. DENIAL AND ISOLATION

With the news of Harry's death, many fans are still getting ready. After a year and a half more than six years ago, Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows, Part 2, is coming to movie theaters, and the Demented in the distance.

At this stage, you will be angry that there are no new books or movies coming and will most likely direct this anger at J.K. Rowling.

Eventually, however, you will realize how useless it is to be angry at her for considering: 1. You don't actually know her and 2. She's so filthy, stinking rich that even if she did know you were angry at her, she could give a owl's patootie about it.

Naturally, you will then want to direct your anger somewhere else, but just remember — no matter how much you may want to, you must resist the temptation to punch a Twi-Hard in the face.

2. ANGER

At this stage, you will try bargaining for new Potter material, whether trying to make a deal with God, sending J.K. Rowling numerous, stalker-esque e-mails or even summoning a demon at the crossroads. You will find yourself saying things like,

"In exchange for my 'born-and" "I will sacrifice a Trekkie if you do this."

3. BARGAINING

During this stage, you will try bargaining for new Potter material, whether trying to make a deal with God, sending J.K. Rowling numerous, stalker-esque e-mails or even summoning a demon at the crossroads. You will find yourself saying things like,

"In exchange for my 'born-and" "I will sacrifice a Trekkie if you do this."

4. DEPRESSION

The fourth stage is composed mainly of eating more than 10,000 calories a day of Bertie Bott's Every Flavor Jelly Beans (even the ones labeled "Ear Wax") and drawing your sorrows in butterbeer. You will expect rocking back-and-forth in the fetal position as you clutch your exact-replica Ollivander wand and mutter "Expecto Patronum" over and over again.

5. ACCEPTANCE

At the final stage, you will finally accept the reality that there will be no new "Harry Potter" books or movies. Feelings of wanting to write another book in an abandoned, snowy cabin somewhere in the mountains, along with the desire to find yourself slipping off the bed into just to remember, it's still hard to punch a Twi-Hard in the face (even the annoying ones).

"It feels real, gritty at other times."

Beyond 'Harry Potter':
A LOOK AT WHAT ELSE
CAST MEMBERS HAVE BEEN DOING

After nearly a decade and seven movies (eventually eight) under their belts, the stars of the Harry Potter series will forever be linked to their characters. But even though Daniel Radcliffe, Emma Watson and Rupert Grint have grown from children to young adults across movie screens everywhere as Harry, Ron and Hermione, the three stars have also found time for other projects. From starring in other movies to performing on Broadway to even modeling, the actors are all spreading their wings as the series starts to come to a close.

'MY IMMORTAL' THE WORST 'HARRY POTTER' FAN FICTION OF ALL TIME

BY APRIL BRANDON/ABRANDON@VICAD.COM

Hogwarts in England where I'm in the seventh year (I'm seventeen). I'm a goth (in case you couldn't tell) and I wear mostly black. I love Hot Topic and I buy all my clothes from there. For example today I was wearing a black corset with matching lace around it and a black leather miniskirt, pink fishnets and black combat boots.

Excerpt from Chapter 23: The door opened and Professor Rumbudge and Cornelius Fudge stomped out angrily. Then Dumbledore and Rumbudge said us. "MR. WAY WHAT THE BEEP ARE YOU DOING?" Rumbudge shouted angrily. Dumbldore blared at her. "Oops she made a mistake!" he corrupted her. "She means hi everybody cum in!" Well we all came in angrily. So did all the other students. I sat between Darkness and Draco and opposite Bloody Mary. Crab and Goyle started to make some morbid jokes. They both looked exactly like Ville Vollo. I eight some Count Chocula and drank som blood from a cup.

Excerpt from Chapter 1: Hi my name is Ebony Darkness Dementia Raven Way and I have long ebony black hair (that's how I got my name) with purple streaks and red tips that reaches my mid-back and icy blue eyes like limpид tears and a lot of people tell me I look like Amy Lee. I'm not related to Gerard Way but I wish I was because he's a major (very bad) hottie. I'm a vampire but my teeth are straight and white. I have pale white skin. I'm also a witch, and I go to a magic school called Excerpt from Chapter 44 (oh yes, 44): "Dat's mi car!!!!" shouted Draco angrily. But suddenly it was revealed who was in da car. It wuz.....Snap!!!! "I shall free you Loopin but first you must help me kill these idiotic doohenders." he said cruelly from the car as it flew circunmizing above us. "Ebony Darkness Dementia Raven Way must be killed. Den the Dork Lord shall never die!!!!"

I don't want to spoil the ending for you, so I'll stop there. But should you want to read "My Immortal" in its entirety, go to <http://myimmortalrehost.webs.com/>. Be forewarned: There is profanity and mega-adult themes (and if you easily get nauseous, skip it altogether considering this chick brutally murders in graphic detail the English language).

To be honest, it's a little overwhelming. I already experienced the beginning of the end after a marathon session of reading the last book when it came out. As much as I enjoy the movie adaptations and am curious to see how these last two films will capture all that transpired in "Deathly Hallows," there are no surprises left," he added.

Regardless of how fans feel about the end, there's no denying that Harry Potter has captured the hearts and minds of many people. So just what is it about the teenage wizard and his friends that has enamored people the world over?

"I think the series has successfully managed to utilize all the emotional themes that are common to our collective human experience in such a way that it's like stepping on a moving sidewalk at the airport — one timid step at the beginning, with one fast-paced journey to the end," Chambers said.

That final chapter of the franchise is built around a massive battle that destroys much of the school. That's not much of a spoiler if you've been paying attention.

THE HUNT BEGINS

Harry Potter and the Deathly Part 1 begins as Harry

On their own, without the guidance or protection of their professors, the three friends must now rely on one another more than ever. But there are Dark Forces in their midst that threaten to tear them apart.

Meanwhile, the Wizarding world has become a dangerous place for all enemies of the Dark Lord. The long-feared war has begun and Voldemort's Death Eaters seize control of the Ministry of Magic and even Hogwarts, terrorizing and arresting anyone who might oppose them. But the one prize they still seek is the one most valuable to Voldemort: Harry Potter. The Chosen One has become the hunted one as Voldemort's followers look for Harry with orders to bring him to the Dark Lord...alive.

Harry's only hope is to find the Horcruxes before Voldemort finds him. But as he searches for clues, he uncovers an old and almost forgotten tale—the legend of the Deathly Hallows. And if the legend turns out to be true, it could give Voldemort the ultimate power he seeks.

Little does Harry know that his future has already been decided by his past when, on that fateful day, he became "The Boy Who Lived." No longer just a boy, Harry Potter is drawing ever closer to the task for which he has been preparing since the day he first stepped into Hogwarts: The ultimate battle with Voldemort. ACTORS SHARE TORRID 'HARRY POTTER' KISS

DAVID GERMAIN/THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

aniel Radcliffe was expecting a tender embrace when it came time to kiss co-star Emma Watson in the new "Harry Potter" film. What he got was torrid necking, Watson working magic with her lips "like an animal," he said.

"I thought it was going to be like a soft, sensual sort of moment, and it was this very vigorous kissing scene," said Radcliffe, reprising the title role in "Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows: Part 1," the second-to-last of the big-screen adventures about the teen wizard, which opens Friday.

"She really went for it, I have to say. It caught me slightly off guard, but yeah, I'm not complaining. Many men would lose a limb to be in that position, so I was absolutely fine with it," Radcliffe said in an interview.

The film casts Harry and best pals Hermione Granger (Watson) and Ron Weasley (Rupert Grint) out into the world to fend for themselves, and the journey puts severe strain on their friendship.

Under the spell of an artifact containing part of evil nemesis Voldemort's soul, Ron is sent into a jealous rage by a vision of Hermione, the girl he loves, and Harry taunting him as a third wheel in their relationship. Hermione and Harry then turn to each other and do some kissing that looks positively bestial.

"That was mainly Emma, I have to say," said director David Yates.

The first take was too tame, and Yates said he told the actors it needed to be more "pagan and mad." That's when Watson really delivered.

"When they were there actually filming that kiss, they did actually want me there to kind of play off something, but I just found that too funny," Grint said. "Emma sent me out because I kept laughing. It just looked really strange."

Though they were partly clothed, the scene leaves the impression that Radcliffe and Watson are stripped naked. Both wore jeans, while Radcliffe went shirtless and Watson had the front of her torso covered, leaving her back and shoulders bare.

"When I just realized that I would have fewer takes to do if I just got on with it and just gave David what he wanted, which was a passionate kiss. Which was something that would really rock Ron's boat and really be quite painful and nasty for him to watch," Wilson said.

Grint shot Ron's raging reactions alone, without Watson and Radcliffe on set. But he was on hand for Watson and Radcliffe's portraits, though he was struck by a case of the giggles watching the colleagues get down and dirty in the "Harry Potter" franchise getting down and dirty.

"Emma sent me out because I kept laughing. It just looked really strange."
